NATURAL RESOURCES - FORESTRY

(STATE FORESTER'S 1938 ANNUAL REPORT)
CIVILIAN CONSERVATION CORPS

During 1938 there were seven Civilian Conservation Corp camps operating under the direction of the State Forester. They were the following camps: Whitmore, Shasta County, Northwestern, Mendocino County, Pine Grove, Amador County, Mt. Madonna, Santa Clara County, Maxon Ranch, Tulare County, Tuna Canyon, Los Angeles County, Minnewawa, San Diego County. From these base camps there were 25 side camps in operation at the vicinity of important works projects. The C C C boys put in 174,624 man days of labor on projects at an expenditure of $299,339. A great many bridges, buildings, roads and firebreaks were constructed. About 30,000 man days were charged to fire control and presuppression work. Nearly 5000 man days were spent in emergency work after flood disaster. Working in close cooperation with State and Federal Forest Service personnel were 75 C C C employees of supervisory and clerical status.

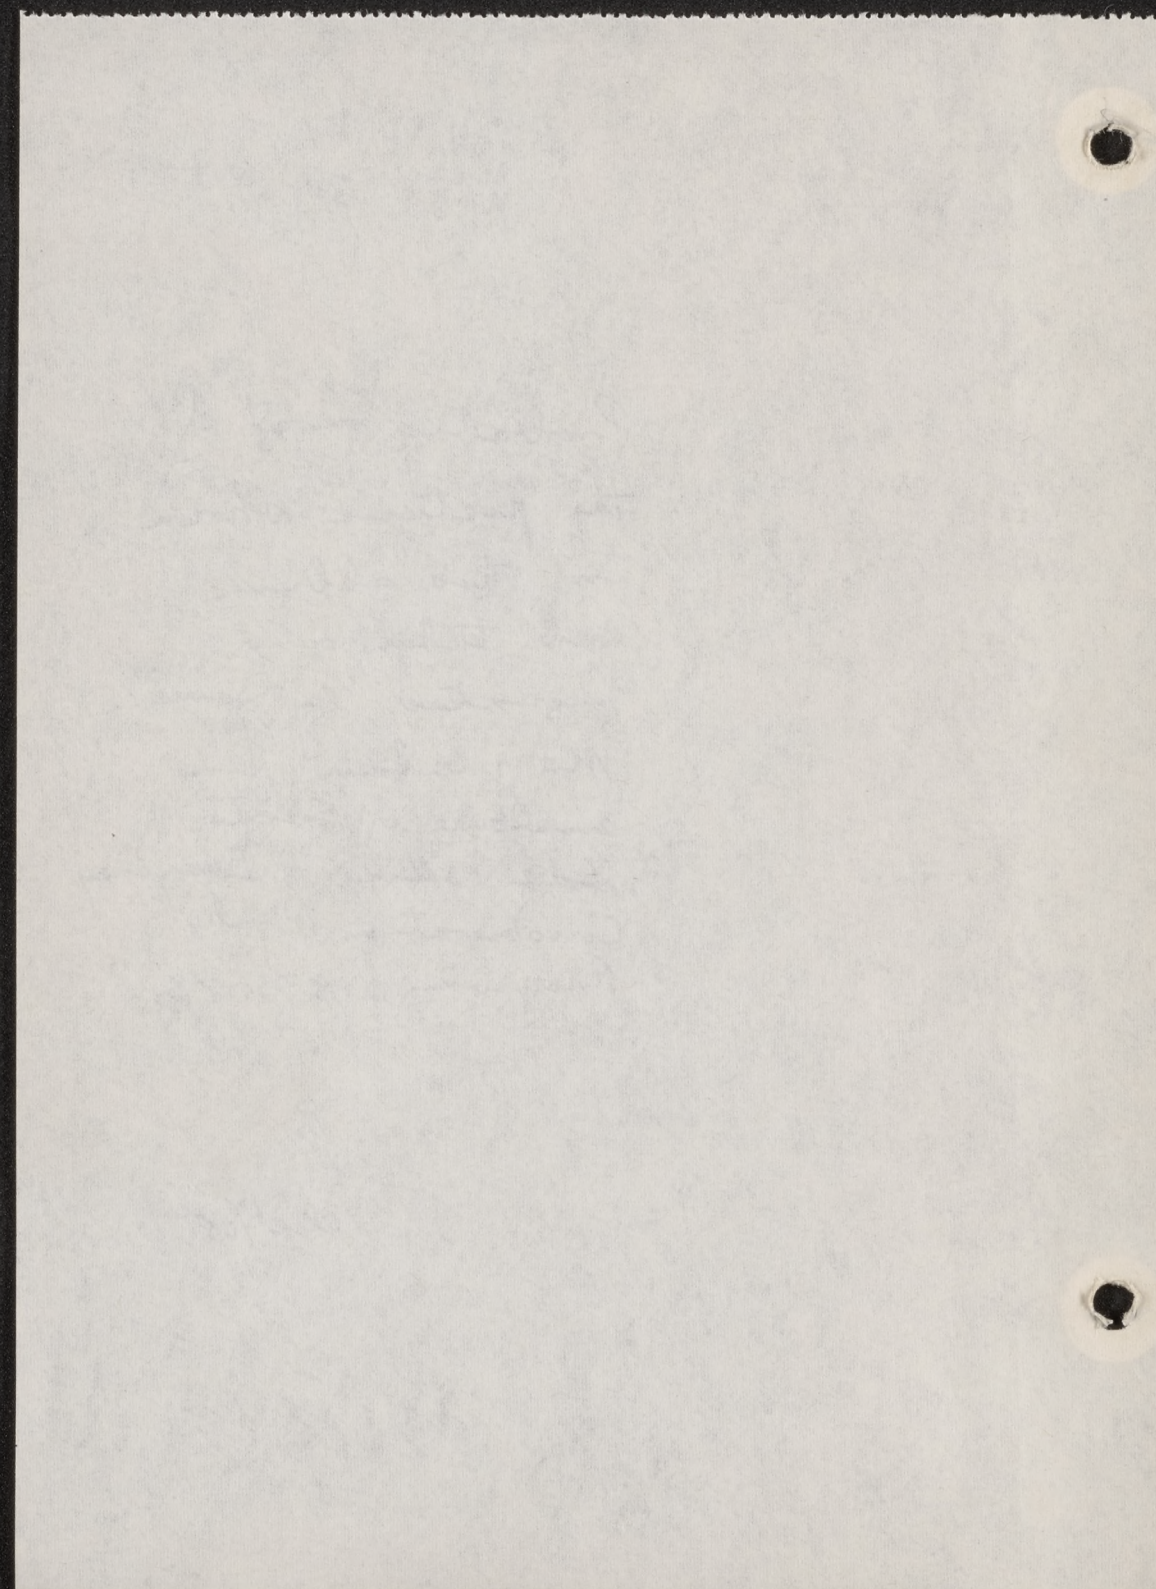

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
BUREAU OF PLANT INDUSTRY

During 1930 some 100,000 plants were imported from foreign countries. The principal sources of these plants were Canada, Mexico, and the West Indies. The principal plants imported were citrus fruits, ornamental plants, and various other plants. The principal countries of origin were Canada, Mexico, and the West Indies.
